FIRE DOORS

FrameFit is a NEW fully tested product that fits directly to door frames to reduce gap sizes to meet current fire door regulations.

Fire Door Inspectors will report a Fire Door as "Non-Compliant" with gaps of over 4mm between the frame and the leaf and more than 8mm at door base. A remedy for excessive gaps is to replace the door with a new one.

FrameFit is designed with ease of fitting in mind, with selective thicknesses such as 1.5mm (with or without smoke seal) - 3 mm and 5 mm to suit any gap variation.

FrameFit comes on a roll and is easily cut to size and applied with minimal tools required.

Widths to suit FD30's 44mm and FD60's 54mm.

- ✓ Avoids cost of replacing a door
- ✓ Brings non-compliant fire doors back into compliance
- ✓ Ease and speed of installation to extend the life of existing fire doors

You have access to a dedicated team of fire protection experts on hand to offer you technical support and guidance on products.

YOU'RE IN SAFE HANDS

SIG Assured: Product Compliance

Designed to offer all our customers complete peace of mind when buying products from SIG.

At the heart of our company strategy is our specialist approach to customer service and support. As we continue to promote SIG UK as a business with specialist knowledge, and as part of industry due diligence and the requirements under the Code for Construction Product Information (CCPI), we have continued to develop the Compliance Tracking System (Riskconnect), designed to offer all our customers complete peace of mind when buying from us, that all products have been assessed against current regulatory requirements.

For a number of years, our team of compliance specialists in SIG Assured have been working in conjunction and supporting our suppliers to ensure that all the products we stock meet essential regulatory compliance. This means we have access to compliance documents for the following.

- Registration, Evaluation, Authorisation and Restriction of Chemicals (REACH)
- Safety Data Sheets (SDS)
- CE & UKCA Marking
- Restriction of Hazardous Substances (RoHS)
- Timber Regulations (EUTR & UKTR)
- Biocidal Products
- Poisons and Explosive Precursors
- Psychoactive Substances
- Conflict Minerals

In addition to product compliance, we assess our supplier's management systems, ethical practices, environmental and sustainability practices - including Environmental Product Declarations (EPD's) and packaging waste. We also review their suitability to supply products into the nuclear construction sector. To further assess our suppliers, we periodically complete on-site audits. This makes it possible to ensure that SIG only supply products and services of the highest standards.

Suppliers' compliance documentation relating to products sold will be accessible in one place, saving time for all parties. Furthermore, all products supported by SIG Assured appraisal will be promoted by SIG businesses. Our fully 'Assured' suppliers are published on the SIG Assured website www.sigassured.co.uk

Whenever you see the SIG Assured 'shield of assurance' stamp you can be confident that your purchase is fully traceable and supported by SIG Assured appraisal.

Our guarantee to our customers

- ✓ Our customers can have complete confidence in the products they purchase from SIG
- ✓ We won't sell any products that don't meet legislative requirements
- ✓ All documentation is legally compliant
- ✓ We can trace the provenance of all our products
- ✓ Fast and accurate information is available immediately www.sigassured.co.uk

SUSTAINABILITY

We're committed to building modern, sustainable, and safe living and working environments in the communities in which we operate, while also doing what we can to influence the industry to take meaningful environmental action.

As we respond to climate change and rising energy costs, addressing our own carbon footprint is crucial. We also want to play an influential leadership role to play in the transition to sustainable construction through our central position in the building materials supply chain.

We say that SIG was born green because since we were founded, we have supported the drive for better energy efficiency standards and greater protection for the environment. Our five group-wide sustainability commitments, launched in 2022, support our renewed focus.

NET ZERO CARBON BY 2035

We have committed to net zero carbon in SIG's operations by 2035 at the latest and as stated in 2021, we aim to achieve this target by meeting the following secondary goals:

- 80% reduction against total Scope 1, 2 and business travel emissions by 2035 (using 2021 emissions as a base year) and offsetting any residual emissions;
- cars and forklifts ("FLT's") to be 100% electric by 2030; and
- commercial vehicles to be 100% electric, hydrogen, or lower-carbon alternative by 2035 (although this continues to be dependent on the pace of progress in the development of external technology, especially for HGVs).

PARTNER WITH MANUFACTURERS AND CUSTOMERS TO REDUCE CARBON AND WASTE ACROSS THE SUPPLY CHAIN

Our commitment is to partner with manufacturers and customers to reduce carbon and waste across the supply chain.

As a specialist distributor of products central to building energy efficiency, SIG is at the heart of the supply chain, uniquely placed to help suppliers and customers meet their own sustainable construction ambitions.

SIG's role is to provide choice, data transparency and expertise on regulatory compliance. We are working to identify and promote more sustainable products from new and existing suppliers.

ZERO SIG WASTE TO LANDFILL BY 2025

Our commitment is for zero SIG waste to landfill by 2025. Our primary responsibility is the SIG waste that we directly control, including monitoring and validating third-party waste contracts for our sites. This will be achieved by waste segregation, reuse of packaging and paperless processes.

However, the nature of our role as a distributor in the middle of the supply chain, handling logistics between customers and suppliers, means we are already coordinating complex logistics and breaking bulk, which helps reduce on-site waste (both materials and labour) in construction. We are also well placed to support a circular economy by recycling and repurposing materials to reduce waste and raw materials extraction.

HEALTH AND SAFETY

We are committed to being a health and safety leader in building materials distribution and to providing workplaces that assure the safety, health and wellbeing of our employees, contractors, and stakeholders.

OUR PEOPLE

Our commitment to our people is to make sure they feel safe, proud, and valued. Their health and wellbeing are integral to this. Now more than ever, we will do what we can to support, educate and provide opportunities for our people to stay happy and healthy at work
